SEEK LAW TO DIVERT TRAVEL TO U.S. SHIPS

Would Require Percentage of PM a st Immigrants to Use American Vessels.

T. H. Rossbottom Fears Influence Exercised by Foreign Banks.

H. Rossbottom, general manager o United States lines, said yesterday he United States lines, said yesterday in an interview that there is need of an interview that there is need of the law to require a percentage of the interview of the influence exercised by foreign banks and shipping agencies can be used to prevent American passenger lines from obtaining their legitimate share of the immigrant carrying business.

The North German Lloyd, under its present arrangement with the Shipping Board, holds the "whip hand" over the United States lines, Mr. Rossbottom said. Under the contract held by the old United States Mail Steamship Company the American Line was to act as agent here for the North German Lloyd when it resumed sailings of its own ships. But the contract lapsed automatically when the Shipping Board regained possession of its passenger fleet, being continued temporarily only so far as it provides for the German line to act as agent in Germany for the ships.

the steerage business will be diverted to the United States lines when direct North German Lloyd sailings are resumed early next year. Such leg'slation as I suggest would make the North German Lloyd perfectly willing to conclude a contract with an American company similar to that between the United American Lines and the Hamburg-American Lines. "American ships are entitled to their thare of the immigrant business, and the ack of an adequate foreign organization and foreign banking facilities should not prevent them from getting it."

Reminded that the organization created by the Shipping Board for the operation of the United States lines was a be maintained only while the ships gere being surveyed and plans prepared or their sale to private interests, Mr. toesbottom said that so far as he knew doore & McCormack, the Roosevelt teamship Company and the United American Lines would continue to superise the operation of the ships for some one to come.

vise the operation of the shaps for time to come.

The opening of the dull winter season, together with the breakdown in immigrant travel consequent on the passage of restrictive legislation by Congress and the uncertain state of the Shipping Board's relations with the North German Lloyd, would undoubtedly have an effect on the board's plans for disposing of the ships, Mr. Rossbottom declared.

"The Shipping Board has two ends in view, to establish an American passenger service to Europe and to sell the vessels under the most advantageous terms possible, provided only that they remain under the flag," he said. "It is doubtful whether any American company under present conditions could afford to pay the full value of the ships."

SALT WATER CUTS OIL OUTPUT IN MEXICO

Atlantic Lobos Officer Tells How Wells Decline.

The difficulties of the Mexican oil situ-tion relative to salt water are described in a letter sent to stockholders by Chas. 8. Goldsborough, secretary of the At-antic Lobos Oil Company. After telling of $2,380,725 net earnings after taxes in a period ended June 30, the largest rate in the company's history, of the oright prospects in the Amatian field, and of the discontinuance of oil ship-ments between July 1 and September bright prospects in the Amatlan field, and of the discontinuance of 6il shipments between July 1 and September because of the oppressive export tax, the secretary says in part:

"Unfortunately and unexpectedly, and simost coincident with the resumption of shipments, the entire Amatlan producing area was invaded by salt water, which reduced the output of nearly all wells, our own included, to a small fraction of their former yield. Your company has, however, succeeded in purchasing on advantageous terms a large quantity of oil daily at the wells, for a period of one year, from production in the Toteco district. This will enable your company to continue operations pending the finding of new production of its own from the development of more remote areas under exploration.

"Such exploration is going energetically forward in two widely separated areas, namely, in the Hacienda de la Aguada (San Diego Valdemar) and in the Chicimantia and Ocotopec, south of the Tuxpam River. This double activity has been rendered possible through an agreement recently entered into with the Compania Transcontinental de Petrolco, S. A., under which agreement, and with mutual and reciprocal privileges and obligations, the Transcontinental for the production from the Aguada in exchange for one-half of the production from some 29,000 hectares of leases selected by your company from the much larger holdings of the Compania Transcontinental in Castillo and other areas."
